

Nazi! Nazi! Nazi!

STOP Allowing Yourself to be Brainwashed!

You Don't Even Know What the Nazis Stood For!

Lorraine Day, M.D.

Recently, someone e-mailed me about the “Neo-Nazis” in Ukraine, and how hateful they are. I asked him if he even knew what a Nazi was? His response, “Of course, a National Socialist.” But that’s a pretty mundane response. “Do you know what they believe politically?” I asked him. After fumbling around for words for a minute or two, he admitted he didn’t know.

No one seems to realize that the nonsense that’s coming from the (Jewish-owned) mainstream media is nothing but propaganda, designed to stir everyone to angry diatribes on things they know very little about.

First of all, the President of Ukraine, Volodymyr Zelensky, is a Jew, a former actor and comedian whose “fame” includes gay dancing in women’s spike heels, and playing the piano (for his audience) with a part of his body that should remain covered. He fits right in with the degenerate Jewish elitists who, temporarily, are running the world.

The word “Nazi” has become a buzz word to suggest hatred toward Jews, something the Jews are always “promoting” so they can continually be the “victims.”

Articles with statements like this, appear on the internet:

The far-right neo-Nazi group has expanded to be part of Ukraine's armed forces, a street militia and a political party.

Do you really think a Jewish president like Zelensky would allow a “neo-Nazi” battalion in his army?

The supposed “neo-Nazi” movement is undoubtedly a false flag operation by the U.S. CIA, the Israeli Mossad, and similar organizations in other countries, to stir up hatred against the white race.

Who Was Hitler?

Here’s a brief history of Germany, Hitler and National Socialism (Nazism).

What was the real purpose of World War I?

In 1918, when World War I began, Woodrow Wilson was President of the United States. But he didn’t run the country. The country was run by Wilson’s “handler” – Colonel Edward Mandell House (real name “Haus”), a Jew sayanim. (A sayanim is a Jew who works from behind the scenes, infiltrating all the nations in order to take over the government and promote Jewish causes).

President Wilson, a married man, was having an illicit romantic affair, giving House (Haus) the leverage he needed for blackmail. Wilson did whatever Haus told him to do.

In reconstructing the American decision to enter the Great War, the relationship between Colonel Edward Mandell House and his "alter ego," Woodrow Wilson, is crucial. Robert Higgs has called the Colonel "one of the most important Americans of the twentieth century." House played the central role in choosing and grooming Woodrow Wilson to become a presidential candidate, a role he relished. We could regard him as a significant historical actor even if this achievement had been his only one. But the rest of the story is that House became an "intimate" friend of Woodrow Wilson, Wilson's "alter ego," as the two liked to say. Wilson's chief of staff, Joseph Tumulty, testified to this close relationship, as did dozens of others. Ultimately, House would become a special roving emissary of Woodrow Wilson in Europe from 1914 onward. In this capacity, and through a large private network of highly influential friends, House's influence on American intervention in World War I can hardly be exaggerated. So who was this very important American?

House was a Texan. His father had immigrated to Texas in the early years of the state and had made a fortune as a blockade-runner during the American Civil War. Edward Mandell House was born in 1858 in Houston and attended elite secondary schools in England and the northeastern United States. Eventually, he ended up at Cornell University. When his father died in 1880, House returned to Texas and took over management of the family fortune of $500,000, something like eleven million dollars today. Not chicken feed, to be sure, but not a fortune that put him in the league of the individuals with whom he would soon be rubbing shoulders. Doing business in banking and railroads, House crossed paths with the J.P. Morgan more than once, and many other leading individuals of the day.

Before long, he left business to work in politics, but his aim was to work behind the scenes, to influence politics rather than leading as a figurehead. It may have been, as some biographers have suggested, that House considered his constitution as lacking the physical stamina for electioneering. But he certainly had a predilection for being the man behind the curtain in any case. (End of internet article)

The Jews' goal for World War I

The Jews' goal for World War I was to transfer the land of Palestine from the hands of the Ottoman empire, that had ruled much of that region since the early 1500's (400 years), into the hands of the British (to be later transferred into the hands of the Jews after WWII).

Many bogus "reasons" have been given for the start of World War I, but one of the main reasons was to crush Germany, a nation of white, clean, conservative, hard-working, ambitious, Christians. Most of Europe had already been conquered by the Jewish Communists (clandestinely).

Great Britain had been taken over by Jewish Communism in the 1600's (Jewish John Dee made an alliance with Queen Elizabeth I).

France fell to the Communists during the French Revolution in 1789.

Italy contains the Vatican, a religion (Catholicism) that has always been run secretly by the (Jewish) Jesuit organization.

Spain: Spanish (Catholic) Inquisition, (1478–1834), judicial institution ostensibly established to combat heresy in Spain. In practice, the Spanish Inquisition served to consolidate power in the monarchy of the newly unified Spanish kingdom, but it achieved that end through infamously brutal methods. Again, Catholicism is run by the Jewish Jesuit order from behind the scenes.

Russia: Communist Jewish Bolshevik Revolution took over Russia in 1917, slaughtering the Christian Czar and his family, and installing brutal tyrant (Jewish) Vladimir Lenin as Dictator.

Germany was the last remaining non-Communist, Christian (Protestant: Lutheran) country of major importance in Europe. The Jews were hell-bent on conquering that Christian country.

Treaty of Versailles

At the end of World War I, the Treaty of Versailles was forced on Germany.

The Treaty of Versailles is one of the most controversial armistice treaties in history. The treaty's so-called “war guilt” clause forced Germany and other Central Powers to take all the blame for World War I. This meant a loss of territories, reduction in military forces, and reparation payments to Allied powers.

Hyperinflation affected the German Papiermark, the currency of the Weimar Republic, between 1921 and 1923, primarily in 1923. It caused considerable internal political instability in the country, the occupation of the Ruhr by France and Belgium as well as misery for the general populace. Wikipedia

Essentially, the Germans became slaves in their own country. Inflation was out of control. It took a wheelbarrow full of Marks (German “dollars”) to buy a loaf of bread.

Hitler was a war hero

Hitler was a hero of WWI. He was twice decorated for bravery. He received the Iron Cross Second Class in 1914 and the Iron Cross First Class in 1918, an honor rarely given to a lance corporal. Hitler's First Class Iron Cross was recommended by Lieutenant Hugo Gutmann, a Jewish adjutant in the List Regiment.

Who was running Germany after WWI?

After World War I, the Jews were running Germany. They brought into Christian Germany the same type of degeneracy they have brought into the U.S.: pornography, prostitution, filthy and violent “art”, homosexuality and lesbianism, crime and utter decadence.

The following information is from the website, History Collection.

The illegal pornography industry boomed

Along with drug use and prostitution, pornography also enjoyed a golden age during the years of the Weimar Republic. Making full use of the latest photographic technology, both amateur and professional porn producers struggled to keep up with the insatiable demand of the Berlin public. Much of this was produced by seemingly respectable photographers. By day, they would take family portraits, but by night they would switch their focus to making adult images. Similarly, the booming movie industry of the 1920s was also complicit. Directors and cameramen would often have a nice sideline making some of the first porn films after-hours in the big studios.

Of course, the quality of such pornography varied considerably. Some of it was obviously amateur, but some of it was slick and professionally done, with an eye on the aesthetics not just the erotic. The cheapest images could be purchased under-the-counter at most street new kiosks (strictly speaking, indecent images were still illegal) though for the more discerning viewer, more expensive images could be purchased, if you knew where to look, of course. Above all, pornography featuring models who bore a striking resemblance to the biggest movie stars of the day, such as Marlene Dietrich or Greta Garbo, were in high demand. Such models could charge a premium for their services and producers would charge a small fortune peddling the finished product out of cabaret clubs.

However, pornography wasn't just about sex. In many cases, it was used as a satirical tool, too. There was a healthy market for nude or suggestive pictures of models who looked like Kaiser Wilhelm II or certain leading politicians. While the authorities would often turn a blind eye to most porn, even images featuring underage models, pressure from their bosses meant that the police would often come down hard on producers who dared to associate the former monarch or the country's political elite with such adult material.

Behind all the decadence was organized crime, and almost all the major gangs of Berlin had the police on their payroll

Many Berliners may well have been having a good time in the 1920s, but there was a darker side to the city during the Weimar period. The German capital was a hotbed of organized crime. Above all, the so-called Ringvereine (or ‘Ring clubs’) ruled the roost. While these criminal gangs had existed since the end of the 19th century, they flourished in the inter-war years, cashing in on the excesses of the Weimar period, especially through their control of drugs, prostitution and illegal pornography.

Historians believed that as many as 60 Ringvereine operated in Berlin alone during the 1920s. These were largely made up of First World War veterans, as well as petty criminals and former convicts. However, the gangs also had a significant number of corrupt policemen on their payrolls. This insider help meant that they were often left to go about their illicit business unmolested. Indeed, it was only really when the Nazis came to power and wanted to take control of every aspect of German society that the authorities started clamping down on organized crime in Berlin – up until that point, so long as the drugs kept coming, the pornography kept being made available and the backhanders were still being paid, little attention was paid to the city’s gangsters.

According to the local folklore, the Ringvereine honored a strict criminal code. While they operated protection rackets and fought to control the lucrative drugs trade, they never used violence against ‘civilians’, only against fellow gangsters. To keep the public onside, these criminal gangs also presented themselves as Robin Hood-type outlaws. They always made sure to give a portion of their ill-gotten gains to poor mothers and children. The Saas Brothers were local legends in this regard. Throughout the 1920s, they robbed banks, keeping most of the loot for themselves but also making a point of stuffing stolen banknotes through the letterboxes of homes in working-class neighborhoods. The Saas Brothers’ criminal racket came to a shuddering halt under the Nazis.

Guide books promoted Berlin as a city of vice and decadence. Wikimedia Commons.

Berlin's decadence became a tourist attraction and the city even promoted itself as a den of vice Berlin's decadent nightlife was hardly a secret at the time. In fact, the city authorities were proud of the fact that their city was one of the most liberal, tolerant and indeed decadent places in the whole world. They embraced the reputation Berlin started to get at the beginning of the 1920s and, as the decade progressed, the scandalous underground scene became increasingly mainstream, with a major tourism industry growing up around it.

Alongside the official Berlin tourist board advertisements, a large number of guidebooks offering visitors an insight into the racier parts of the city were published during the Weimar period. One of the most popular was Curt Moreck's Guide Through Depraved Berlin. As the title suggests, this guidebook shunned the usual palaces and parks and instead pointed the curious visitor in the direction of homosexual bars like the Topp, transvestite cabarets and places they could pick up a girl (or boy) for the night. Similarly, Ruth Margarete Rolling wrote a popular guidebook to lesbian Berlin, advising readers that there was something for everyone in the city: "Here, each can find their own happiness, for they make a point of satisfying every taste," she said.

Even traditional guidebooks couldn't help mentioning the seedier side of the city. And while some warned visitors to stay away from the many "dens of sin", this would often have quite the opposite effect. By the mid-1920s, many were already complaining that the Berlin scene was over. Curious tourists were filling the tables of the main cabaret clubs, much to the annoyance of local artists and writers. Nevertheless, a true underground scene remained and thrived right until the start of the Nazi dictatorship.

Some of Germany's artists loved painting mutilated women's bodies.

Then, in 1933, Adolf Hitler entered politics – to save his country from Jewish filth and decadence!

All Hitler wanted to do was:

- a) move the Jews OUT of Germany, and
- b) return Germany to the Germans and their previous moral, conservative, Christian way of life.

Hitler, and his National Socialists (Nazis) accomplished the following:

- 1) Developed the autobahn (the world's first major freeway system)
- 2) Ordered the design of the Volkswagen (a wagon – car - for the “folks”, the average family)
- 3) Revived and restored the economy of Germany without borrowing money from the Jewish Banksters – a “crime” for which he, and the nation of Germany, would have to pay with their lives.
- 4) Restored Germany to the Germans
- 5) When the elitist international Jews told the Jews in Germany to “sabotage the war effort” when Great Britain declared war against Germany, the Jews became traitors, as they would in any country, and Hitler put them in work camps. The Auschwitz Concentration camp was built right next to I.G. Farben, a major industrial company that was making Buna (synthetic rubber) for the war effort. The Jewish inmates worked there.
- 6) Hitler went into Ukraine to RESCUE the German Christians who were being STARVED to DEATH by Communist (Jew) Stalin (The Holodomor)
- 7) Hitler went into Poland to RESCUE the German Christians in Poland who were being murdered by the Polish Communists (who had closed the Danzig Corridor to prevent the Germans from escaping).

That is what REAL Nazism is all about!

Wake Up!

But the Jews vowed again to CRUSH Germany!

So along came World War II

The JEWS Declared War Against Germany

The "Allies" of World War II were led by U.S. President, (Jew) Franklin Delano Roosevelt (real name: Rosenvelt), Prime Minister of Great Britain (Jew) Winston Churchill (mother: Jenny Jerome), and U.S.S.R. Communist Dictator, (Jew) Joseph Stalin.

The Communist JEWS of the U.S., Great Britain and the U.S.S.R. DECLARED WAR AGAINST Christian Germany!

Great Britain bombed Germany FOUR TIMES, before Germany retaliated. Hitler didn't want war. He wanted to live in peace.

As stated above, International Jewry told the Jews in Germany to "sabotage the war effort." When they did, they became traitors to Germany and Hitler put them in work camps.

Why would Hitler build all these barracks, of brick, no less, if his plans were to slaughter the Jews? Why wouldn't he just murder them in the train box cars they arrived in?

Why would Hitler build a hospital in every camp, if his plans were to exterminate the Jews? Hospitals are to get people well.

Why would Hitler provide an opportunity for an orchestra (see inmates in striped clothing)

NO ONE was “gassed” at Auschwitz or any other German Concentration Camp.

They were Work Camps, for those in Germany who were sabotaging the war effort, and became TRAITORS to their country!
